

30 YEARS

A Thriftless Farmer. The thriftless farmer provides no shelter for his cattle during the inclemency of the winter...

He throws their fodder on the ground, or in the mud, and not unfrequently in the high way...

He grazes his meadow in the fall and spring by which they are gradually exhausted and finally ruined.

His fences old and poor, just such as to let his neighbor's cattle break into his fields...

He neglects to keep the manure from around the sills of his barn—if he has one—by which they are prematurely rotted, and his barn destroyed.

He tills or skins over the surface of his land until it is exhausted, but never thinks it worth while to manure or clover it.

He has a plow for nothing, and nothing in its place. He constantly wants a hoe or rake or a hammer, or an auger, but knows not where to find them, and thus loses much time.

He loiters away stormy days and evenings, when he should be repairing his utensils, or improving his mind by reading useful books or newspapers.

He spends much time in town, at the corner of the streets, or in the "rum holes," complaining of the hard times, and goes home in the evening "pretty well tore."

He has no shed for his fire-wood; consequently his wife is out of humor, and his meals out of season.

He plants a few fruit trees, and his cattle forthwith destroy them. He "has no luck in raising fruit."

One half of what little he raises is destroyed by his own or neighbor's cattle.

His plow, harrow and other implements lie all winter in the field where last used; and just as he is getting in a hurry, the next season, his plow breaks because it was not housed and properly cared for.

Somebody's hogs break in and destroy his garden, because he has not stopped a hole in the fence that he had been intending to stop for a week.

He is often in a great hurry, but will stop and talk as long as he can find any one to talk with.

He has of course, but little money, and when he must raise some to pay his taxes, etc., he raises it at a great sacrifice in some way or other, by paying an enormous share, or by selling his scanty crops when prices are low.

He is a year behind, instead of being a year ahead of his business—and always will be.

When he pays a debt, it is at the end of an execution; consequently his credit is at a low ebb.

He buys entirely on credit, and merchants and all others with whom he deals charge him twice or thrice the profit they charge prompt paymasters, and are unwilling to sell him goods at any cost.

He has to beg and promise, and promise and beg, to get them on any terms. The merchants dread to see his wife come into their stores, and the poor woman feels depressed and degraded.

The smoke begins to come out of his chimney late of a winter's morning, while his cattle are suffering for their morning's food.

Manure lies in heaps in his stable, his horses are rough and uncurried, and his harness trod under their feet.

His bars and gates are broken, his buildings unpainted, and the boards and shingles falling off—he has no time to replace them—the glass is out of the windows, and the holes stopped with rags and old hats.

He is a great borrower of thirty neighbors implements, but never returns the borrowed article, and when it is sent for, it can't be found.

He is in person a great sloven, and never attends public worship; or if he does occasionally do so, he comes sneaking in when service is half over.

He neglects his accounts, and when his neighbor calls to settle with him he has something to attend to.

Take him all in all, he is a poor farmer, a poor husband, a poor father, a poor neighbor, and a poor Christian.

Colic in Horses.

A correspondent (Mr. E. S. Phelps, Jr.) writing to the Farmer's Advocate, gives the following recipe for the colic in horses:—I knew a horse taken with colic while on a tread wheel to a carding machine, so that the owner thought he could not live.

The man's wife who believed and practiced hygienia, from the time the horse was taken sick, tried to persuade her husband to use a wet bandage, but he insisted it would do no good.

After all had given up that the horse would die, he took a thick bed comforter, bound it around the horse, went to the well and drew water, and poured on till thoroughly soaked.

It steamed like a pot boiling. In less than fifteen minutes from the time he commenced the watering process the horse was up and eating to the great surprise of the horse doctors who knew he could not live.

FRANK W. HAY OFFERS to the Merchants and others buying TIN, COPPER OR SHEET IRON WARE, to sell again, inducements not found in any Manufacturing West of the Alleghenies. All Wares packed carefully and

DR. MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctified by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States, and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case.

Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried, it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz: In Debility, Nervous Affections, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Injunct Consumption, Scrophulous Tuberculosis, Salt Rheum, Menstruation, Whites, Chlorosis, Liver Complaints, Chronic Headaches, Rheumatism, Intermittent Fevers, Pimples on the Face, &c.

In cases of General Debility, whether the result of acute disease, or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from Chronic complaints, our trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly re-appeared in the busy world, as if restored from a protracted travel in a distant land. Some signal instances of this kind are attested of female Sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguinous exhalation, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In Nervous Affections of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to Medical men, the operation of this preparation of Iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating, and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of constiveness without ever being a gastric purgative or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tenacity which forms them. In Dyspepsia innumerable are the cases, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant constiveness.

In unchecked Diarrhoea, even when advanced to Dysentery, confirmed emaciating and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicates Incipient Consumption, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In Scrophulous Tuberculosis, this medicated has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of Iodine, without any of their well known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In Rheumatism, both Chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In intermittent fevers it must necessarily be a great restorative and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy and fully restorative effects. Good agents complete a Sadtler's shop, in acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of the price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to R. B. LOCKE, & Co., General Agents, 20 Cedar St., N. Y. May, 30, 1860.—ly.

ABOVE we present you with a likeness of DR. MORSE—the inventor of MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS. This philanthropist has visited Europe, Asia, and Africa, and has spent three years in North America, and spent three years among the Indians of our Western coast. He has discovered, Dr. Morse was the first to establish the fact that all diseases arise from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD—that our strength and health depend upon this vital fluid.

When the various passages become clogged and do not act in perfect harmony, the different functions of the body, the blood, the action, becomes thick, corrupted, and thus causing all pains, sickness and debility every name; our strength is exhausted, our health we are deprived of, and if nature is assisted in throwing off the stagnant humors, the system will be purified, and thus our light of life will forever be secured. How important then that we should have the various passages of the body free and open, and how pleasant to us that we have it in our power to put a medicine in your reach, namely, MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS, manufactured from plants which grow in the Indian Garden, and in the woods of our country, for the cure of all diseases of the diseased man. One of the roots from these plants is made into a Sulfuric, which cleanses the pores of the skin, and assists in throwing out the finer parts of the system within. The second is a plant which is a purgative, that opens the passages of the lungs, and thus, in a soothing manner, forms its duty in throwing off phlegm, and humors from the lungs by copious spitting.

The third is a Diuretic, which gives double energy to the kidneys; thus encouraged, they draw large amounts of impurity from the blood, which is conveyed off in great quantities by the urine or water passage, and which could not be discharged in any other way. The fourth is a Cathartic, and accompanies the other properties of the Pills while engaged in purifying the blood; the coarser particles of impurity cannot pass by the other outlets, are thus conveyed off in great quantities by the bowels.

From the above, it is shown that Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills not only enter the system, but become united with the blood, for they pass to every part, and completely renovate the life of the body, which is the natural and perfectly healthy; consequently all sickness and pain is driven from the system, so they remain in the body becomes so pure and clear.

The reason why people are so distressed and suffering, and why many die, is because they do not get a medicine which will purify the blood, and which will open the passages of the body for the disease to be cast out; leaving a large quantity of food and other matter in the stomach, and the stomach and intestines are overloaded with the corrupted mass; thus producing a disagreeable fermentation, causing mixing with the blood, which causes the matter through every vein and artery until life is taken from the body by disease. Dr. Morse's PILLS have added to themselves victory, by restoring millions of the sick to health, and have been tried by thousands who have been racked with torment, and whose families have been scourged by the burning disease of raging fever, and who have been brought, were, within a step of the silent grave, and stand ready to testify that they would have numbered with the dead, had it not been for this great and wonderful medicine, Morse's Indian Root Pills. After one or two doses had been taken, they were astonished, and almost surprised, in witnessing their charming cure. Not only do they give immediate relief to strength, and take away all sickness, pain and anguish, but they at once destroy the foundation of the disease, which is the impurity of the blood, which they cleanse and purify, that disease—that deadly enemy—take its flight, and the flush of youth and health will again return, and the prospect of a long and happy life will clear the dawn.
